

Guardians of the Path

Fírst Magyc

The background of the cover is a detailed illustration of a stone archway. The arch is constructed from rough-hewn grey stones. In the center of the arch is a dark wooden door. On the door, there is a large, ornate treble clef symbol. The door is slightly ajar, revealing a bright, golden light emanating from the passage beyond. The archway is flanked by two dark stone pillars. At the base of the arch, several lit candles in small holders cast a warm, yellow glow. Yellow flowers, possibly daisies, are scattered along the base of the stone wall and around the candles. The overall atmosphere is mysterious and magical.

Synopsis book

Welcome to Demona, a land where music is the most powerful form of magyc. Ria Westerfield had never heard of Demona or the Path, but when she helps a mysterious Guardian who is trapped between worlds, she is embroiled in his struggle to protect his home and the very force of life itself. At first glance, this may look like Ria's story, but this tale belongs to everyone who fights to save magyc - Witches, assassins, princesses, and even Death Himself. Will the Guardians and their allies triumph or will Demons and sorcerers send Demona into the throes of Chaos and the End of Times?
