Synopsis book

Born 1980 Died 1940? Benjamin Bauman, a contemporary Jewish physician, is blinded and rendered unconscious by a flash of light while driving his car. When he awakens he finds himself hospitalized in Nazi Germany with a new name (Karl Schroder), new language (German) and a BIG problem. He is a Jew in the likeness of a Nazi! Ben's obvious goal is to try return to the present, but he can't shake the feeling he was propelled into the past for a yet to be determined mission. If so, what will his assignment be? Is he there to kill Hitler warn England and America of a looming world war warn the Jews of the impending holocaust or is it something less global and more personal, like learning the meaning of true love in a place where staying alive is the most paramount mission of all?
